Viviana Loshak represents clients in complex commercial litigation and insurance-related matters. She works with major corporations, business entities, and carriers, counseling them on a wide variety of claims and issues. Armed with extensive industry knowledge and understanding, Viviana provides her clients with strategic and tailored solutions for their legal problems.

Viviana's insurance-related experience includes a broad range of matters and policies such as commercial, business, professional liability, excess, umbrella, automobile, healthcare, directors and officers, errors and omissions, homeowner, and property policies. She also handles coverage disputes—from providing coverage evaluations and opinions to handling and prosecuting declaratory judgment and rescission actions. Viviana further defends and counsels carriers in first-party and third-party bad faith/extra-contractual claims and litigation.

In addition, Viviana provides general business representation and counseling to advise business entities facing claims of breach of contract, indemnity, negligence, strict liability, professional liability, wrongful death, statutory violations, warranty breaches, and premises liability.

Before joining Hinshaw, Viviana worked for almost a decade in commercial, business, and insurance matters at other firms in Florida. Most recently, she was a partner in the Ft. Lauderdale office of a Miami-based law firm.
